Hermione
Granger
and Marley the dog

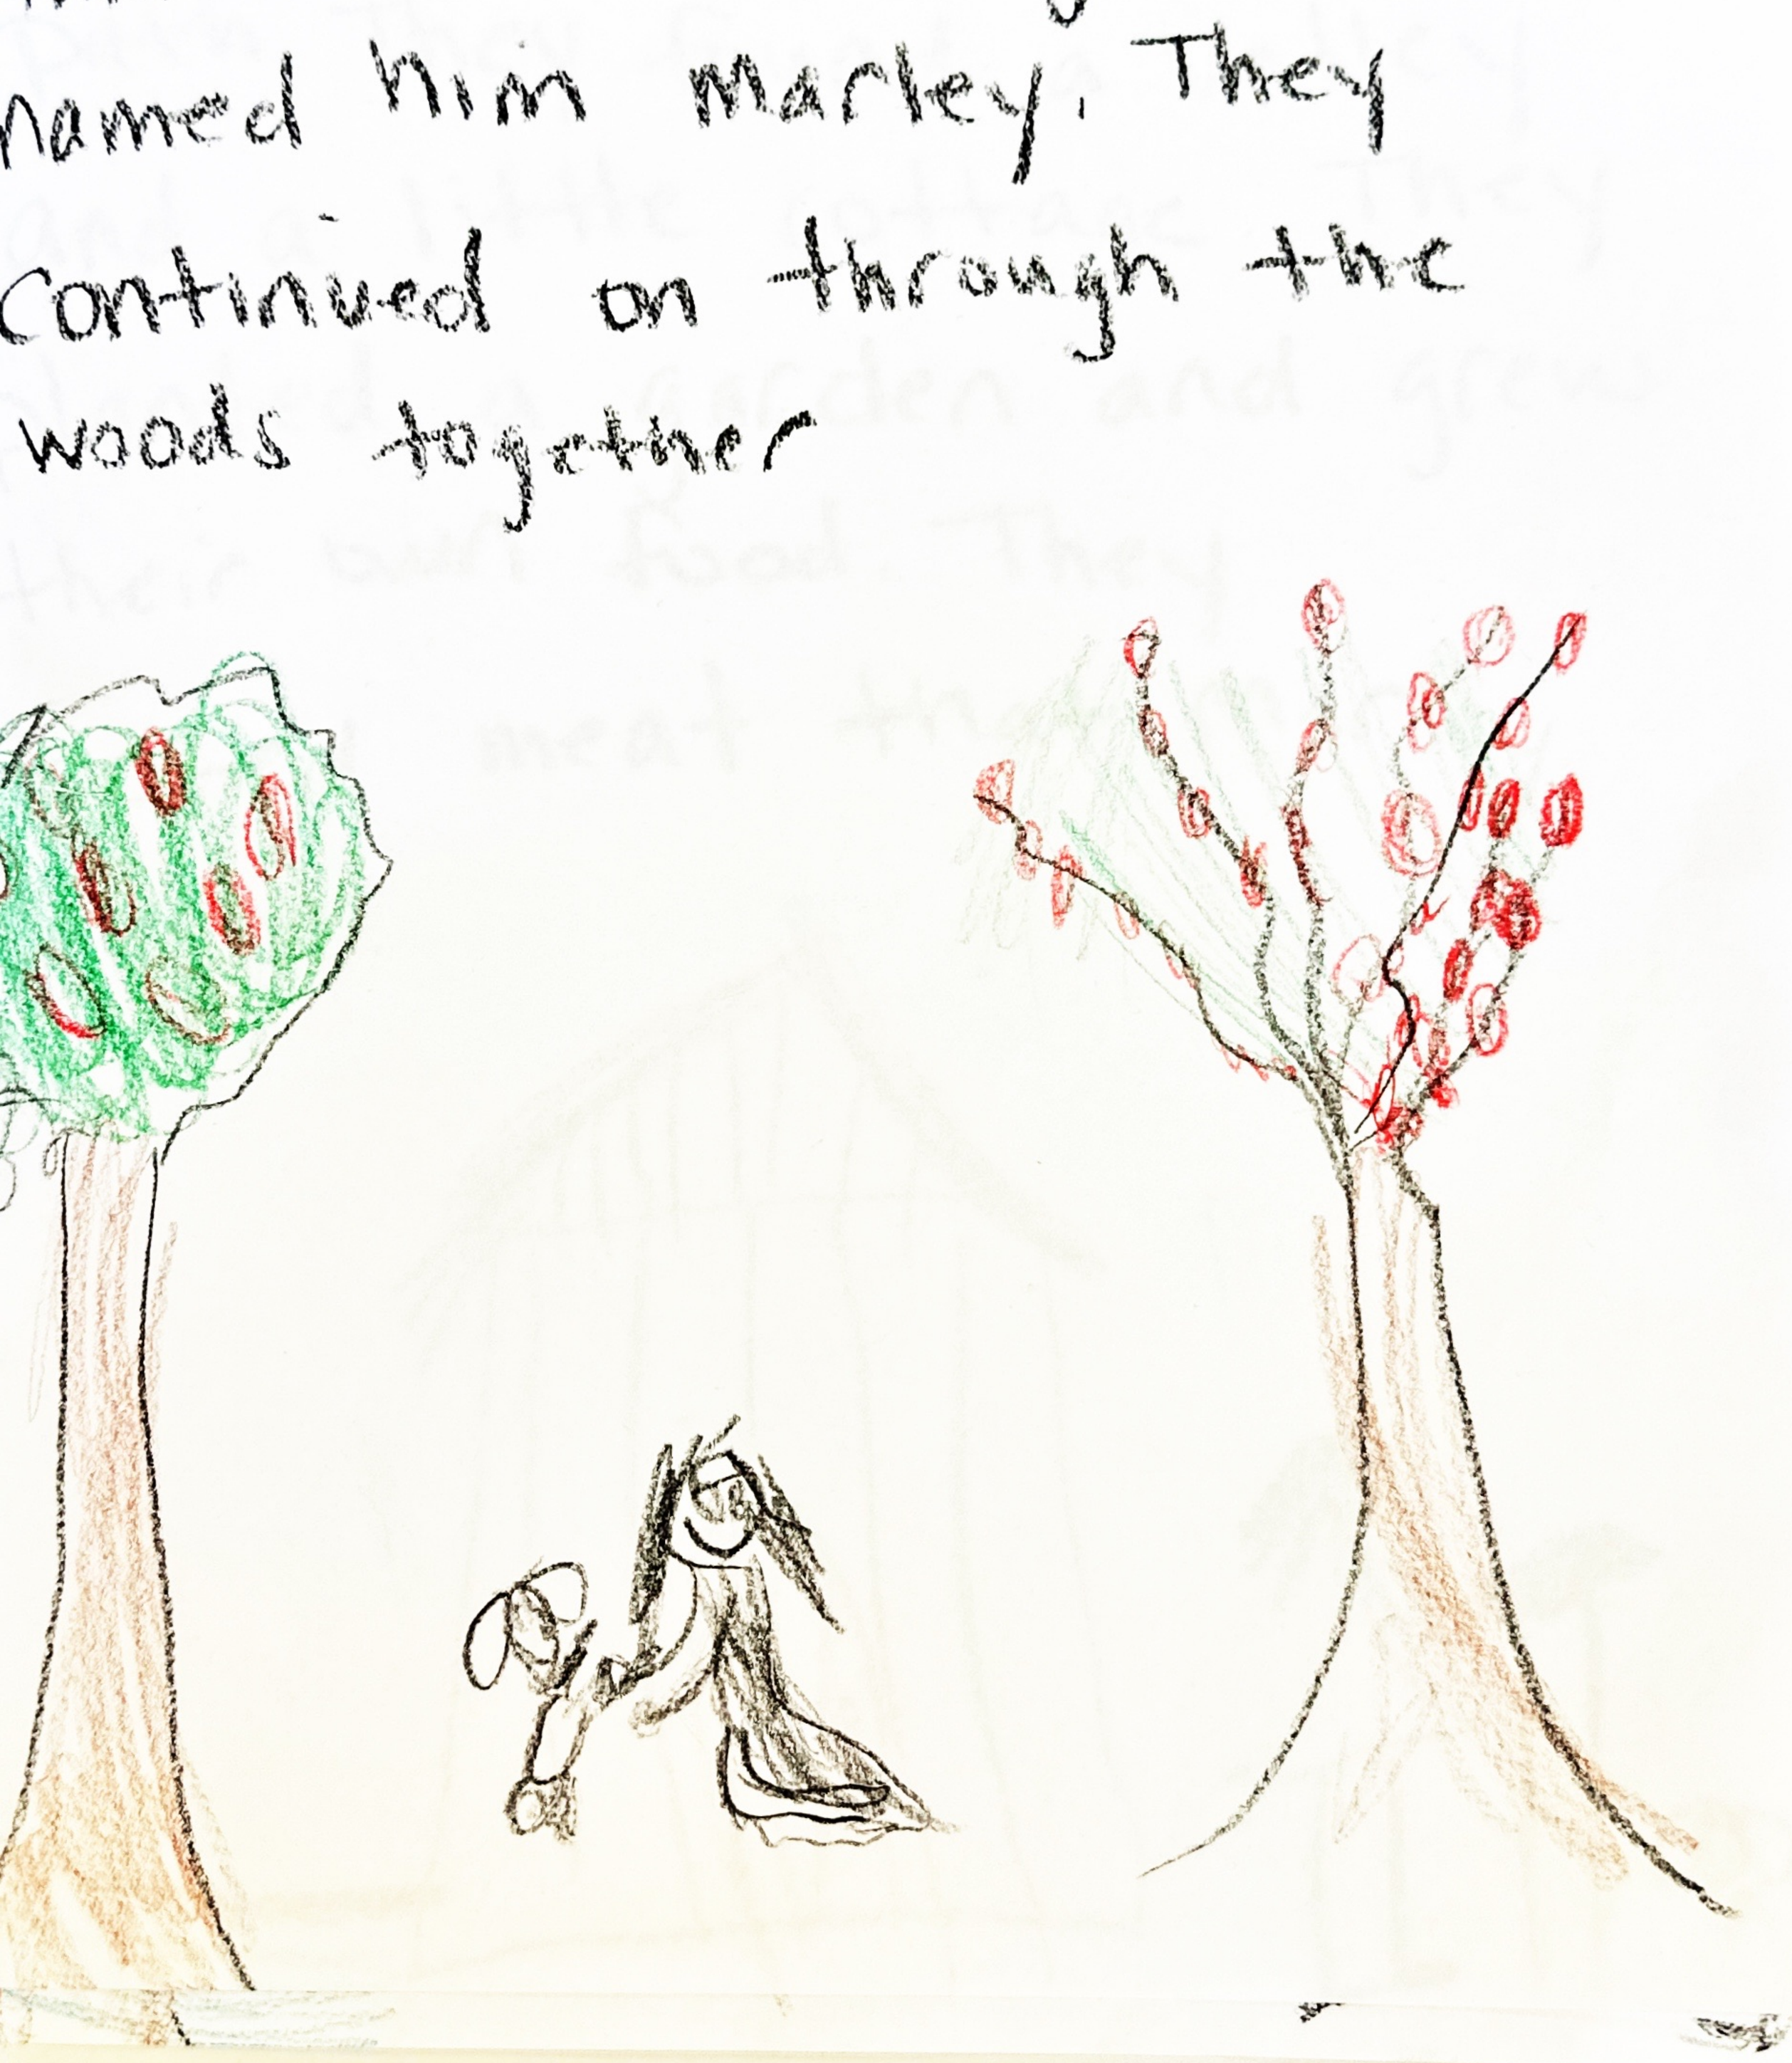
By Rose Williams

She and her step mother were at the house. Hermione went exploring and her step mother locked her out of the house! She climbed through a window she had left open. She packed a bag with all of her stuff and left.

Hermione traveled into the woods and found a scared little puppy with no color. She shared her lunch with the dog and named him marley. They continued on through the woods together



They got lost in the woods and Hermione used her magic wand and lit up the path. They found a valley and a little cottage. They planted a garden and grew their own food. They cooked meat that Marley caught.
